↑FLAP↑

The diagram features a magenta curve that starts at the top-left corner, dips down, rises to a local peak, dips again to a global minimum, rises to a local peak, and finally dips to the bottom-right corner. Two vertical magenta lines connect the curve to the bottom edge of the frame: one from the first local peak and another from the second local peak. Above the curve, the text '↑FLAP↑' is centered, with two small upward-pointing arrows flanking the text.
